

Complaints Handling Policy

Australian Professional Training Academy is committed to providing a fair and transparent complaint handling process.

What is a complaint?

A complaint is generally negative feedback about services or people which has not been resolved locally.

Who does this policy apply to?

This policy applies to and may involve issues concerning the conduct of:

- Australian Professional Training Academy as an organisation, its trainers, assessors or other staff;
- Third party's services provided on the behalf of Australian Professional Training Academy, its trainers, assessors or other staff; or
- a learner of Australian Professional Training Academy.

This is an important point to note in understanding that this policy has a broad application and is not simply relevant to complaints that may be made by learners. A complaint may be made by an employer about Australian Professional Training Academy or by the trainer about the conduct of the learner. Throughout this policy we refer to the person making a complaint as simply the complainant.

Early resolution of complaints

In all cases, issues that arise during training and assessment that are the source of frustration or are in dispute should be resolved at the time they occur between the persons involved. It is often the case that complaints can be avoided by proper communication and respect between persons involved.

Relationship to continuous improvement

Frequently, the complaints handling process will expose weaknesses in the training and assessment or administrative system that can flow into the continuous improvement system as opportunities for improvement. This outcome of complaints handling is very positive and should be actively applied by all persons involved. It is for this reason that complaints received from stakeholders should be seen in a positive light and as opportunities for improvement.

Making a complaint

A complaint may be received by Australian Professional Training Academy in any form and does not need to be formally documented by the complainant in order to be acted on. Complaints may be made by any person.

To make a complaint, the person is recommended to complete the Australian Professional Training Academy - Complaint Form. This form is available via our website or can be obtained from the Australian Professional Training Academy office.

The completed complaint form is to be submitted to the Office Manager either in hard copy or electronically via the following contact details:

Address: 1/59, Rickard Road, Bankstown, NSW 2200

Email: info@aptacademy.edu.au

If a complainant has any difficulty accessing the required form or submitting the complaint to Australian Professional Training Academy, they are advised to contact site train immediately at the following phone number: 02 9011 7000

Complaint handling procedure

Australian Professional Training Academy will apply the following procedure to its complaints handling:

- A complaint may be received in any form (written, verbal) although persons seeking to make a complaint are recommended to complete the complaint form which is available to them on the website. There is no time limitation on a person who is seeking to make a complaint. A person who makes a complaint must be provided a written acknowledgement as soon as possible and not later than 24 hours from the time the complaint is received. This acknowledgement is intended to provide the complainant assurance that Australian Professional Training Academy had received the complaint and will review the relevant issues and provide a response. The acknowledgement must inform the complainant that they will receive a written response within 14 days.

- A written record of all complaints is to be kept by Australian Professional Training Academy including all details of lodgement, response and resolution. The complaints register within RTO Data is to be used to record the details of the complaint and to maintain a chronological journal of events during the complaint handling process. Records relating to complaint handling must be stored securely to prevent access to unauthorised personnel.
- A complainant is to be provided an opportunity to formally present his or her case at no cost.
- Each complainant may be accompanied and/or assisted by a support person at any relevant meeting.
- Where a complaint is made about or involves allegations about another person, Australian Professional Training Academy is obliged to inform this person about this complaint or allegation and provide them the opportunity to respond and present information in response to the issues raised. This may be achieved through direct meetings or meeting via an electronic means. Australian Professional Training Academy must maintain a detailed record of these meetings in the form of a record of conversation. At all times information must be handled sensitively and treated in confidence. Persons involved in a dispute or complaint should be reminded to treat each other with respect and conduct themselves in a professional and courteous manner.
- Where a complaint is received by Australian Professional Training Academy which involve allegations about alleged criminal conduct, Australian Professional Training Academy are to recommend the person making the complaint refer the matter to the relevant State or Territory Police Service.
- The complaints policy must be publicly available. This means that the complaints policy and procedure must be published on the Australian Professional Training Academy website.
- The handling of a complaint is to commence within seven (7) working days of the lodgement of the complaint and all reasonable measures are taken to finalise the process as soon as practicable.

- The complainant is to be provided a written response to the complaint, including details of the reasons for the outcome. A written response must be provided to the complainant within fourteen (14) working days of the lodgement of the complaint.
- Complaints must be resolved to a final outcome within sixty (60) calendar days of the complaint being initially received. Where Australian Professional Training Academy Chief Executive Officer considers that more than 60 calendar days are required to process and finalise the complaint, the CEO must inform the complainant in writing, including reasons why more than 60 calendar days are required. As a benchmark, Australian Professional Training Academy should attempt to resolve complaints as soon as possible. A timeframe to resolve a complaint within thirty (30) calendar days is considered acceptable and in the best interest of Australian Professional Training Academy and the complainant. A complainant should also be provided with regular updates to inform them of the progress of the complaint handling. Updates should be provided to the complainant at a minimum of two (2) weekly intervals.
- Australian Professional Training Academy shall maintain the enrolment of the complainant during the complaint handling process.
- Decisions or outcomes of the complaint handling process that find in the favour of the learner shall be implemented immediately.
- Complaints are to be handled in the strictest of confidence. No Australian Professional Training Academy representative is to disclose information to any person without the permission of Australian Professional Training Academy Chief Executive Officer. A decision to release information to third parties can only to be made after the complainant has given permission for this to occur. This permission should be given using the Information Release Form.
- Complaints are to be considered and handled to ensure the principles of natural justice and procedural fairness are applied at every stage of the complaint handling process. This means that the complainant is entitled to be heard with access to all relevant information and with the right of reply. The complainant is entitled to have their complaint heard by a person that is without bias and may not be affected by the decision. Finally the decision must be made based on logical evidence and the decision-maker must take account of relevant considerations, must act for a proper purpose and must not take into account irrelevant considerations. Further guidance on principles of natural justice and procedural fairness can be accessed at the following link: Principles of Natural Justice and Procedural Fairness

Informing Persons and Responding to Allegations

Where a complaint involves one person making allegations about another person, it is a requirement for Australian Professional Training Academy to hear both sides of the matter before making any judgements about how the complaint should be settled. A person who will be affected by a decision made by Australian Professional Training Academy as a result of a complaint has the right to be fully informed of any allegations and to be provided adequate opportunity to be heard and respond. The person has the right to:

- put forward arguments in their favour,
- show cause why a proposed action should not be taken,
- deny allegations,
- call for evidence to disprove allegations and claims,
- explain allegations or present an innocent explanation, and
- provide mitigating circumstances (information aimed at reducing the severity, seriousness, of something).

Australian Professional Training Academy also has an obligation to fully consider the substance of allegations and the response provided by parties before making a decision. Decisions must be communicated to the complainant and relevant persons subject of allegations in writing. This is to include advising these persons of their right to seek a third party review of decisions made by Australian Professional Training Academy.

Where an allegation is made that involve alleged criminal or illegal activity and it is considered outside the scope and expertise of Australian Professional Training Academy to investigate the matter, then in these circumstances Australian Professional Training Academy reserve the right to report these allegations to law enforcement authorities. Persons related to the matter involving alleged criminal or illegal activity will be advised in writing if this course of action is being taken.

Third Party Review

Where the person making a complaint is not satisfied with the handling of the matter by Australian Professional Training Academy, they have the opportunity for a body or person that is independent of Australian Professional Training Academy to review his or her complaint following the internal completion of complaint handling process. Before a person seeks a review by an independent person, they are requested to first allow Australian Professional Training Academy to fully consider the nature of the complaint to fully respond to the person in writing. If after this has occurred, the person is not satisfied with the outcome, they can then seek a review by an independent person. To request a review by an independent person, the complainant should inform the Office Manager of their request who will initiate the process with the Chief Executive Officer.

In these circumstances the Australian Professional Training Academy Chief Executive Officer will advise of an appropriate party independent of Australian Professional Training Academy to review the complaint outcome (and its subsequent handling) and provide advice to Australian Professional Training Academy in regards to the recommended outcomes. The independent third-party is required to respond with their recommendations within fourteen (14) working days of their review being requested. This advice is to be accepted by Australian Professional Training Academy as final, advised to the person making a complaint in writing and implemented without prejudice.

Where the Australian Professional Training Academy appoints or engages an appropriate independent person to review a complaint, the Australian Professional Training Academy will meet the full cost to facilitate the independent review. Where the person seeking an appeal objects to this appointment and requests to engage a person or organisation they nominate to undertake the review, the Australian Professional Training Academy may seek the person making a complaint to contribute to the cost of engaging this person to undertake the review. This is advised to the person making a complaint within the Learner Handbook.

Where a complaint is received by Australian Professional Training Academy and the Chief Executive Officer feels that they may be biased or there is a perception of bias, then the complaint is to be referred directly to an independent third-party for consideration and response as outlined above.

Unresolved Appeals

At full conclusion of the complaint handling process where the person making a complaint remains not satisfied with the outcome of the complaint handling procedure, the person making a complaint is to be directed to the following external agencies:

- In relation to consumer related issue, the person may refer their complaint to the Office of Fair Trading.
- In relation to the delivery of training and assessment services, the person may refer their complaint to the National Training Complaints Service via the following phone number: 13 38 73.

This guidance is communicated to learners within the Learner Handbook. It is expected that the above agencies will investigate the persons concerns and contact the Australian Professional Training Academy for information.

The Australian Professional Training Academy is to cooperate fully with agencies such as the National Training Complaints Service, the Office of Fair Trading or ASQA that may investigate the handling of a complaint. Australian Professional Training Academy considers that it would be extremely unlikely that a complaint is not able to be resolved quickly within Australian Professional Training Academy internal arrangements.
