- Demonstration / Role-Play. The learner is required to demonstrate a range of skills whilst being observed by, or interacting with, the assessor. These activities will be clearly explained and always relate to duties relevant to the workplace. These activities allow the assessor to observe the learner apply their knowledge and skills during practical activity.

- Written Report / Case Study / Journal. The learner is required to produce a range of written records or reports based on real workplace scenarios or based on a case study that is provided by the assessor.
- Project. The learner is required to undertake a range of projects in the context of his or her own workplace or on a case study that is provided by the assessor. A project will require the creation of various workplace documents (reports, memos, etc). Projects will often have a practical presentation component where the learner will be asked to present the outcomes of their project.
- Knowledge Test. The learner is required to undertake a number of written knowledge tests over the course of his or her study. These tests will be provided to the learner by the assessor at an arranged time and the learner will be required to individually complete the test. The learner may research their answers from the course training materials and notes as well as relevant workplace references.
- Workplace Supervisor Report. Workplace supervisors will be asked to provide feedback about the learner's performance during a module. The supervisor will receive a briefing at the time the learner begins studying each module to inform them of the module requirements.
